Excerpt: . course, the I. W. W. is most strongly entrenched in the unorganized extractive industries--lumber, agriculture, and construction work.² In April, 1908, the General Executive Board issued an official call (printed in English, French, German and Italian) for the First Convention of Textile Workers to be held May 1, 1908, in Paterson, N. J. In this document the claim is made that over 5,000 textile workers have already been organized into the Industrial Workers of the World. J 1 Industrial Union Bulletin, Nov. 7, 1908, p. 1. Cf. appendix vi. During the eighteen months period following the financial crisis of 1907 the I. W. W. almost entirely gave up its strike activities.⁴ Furthermore, the organization seemed to have secured no permanent foothold in those communities where it had been particularly militant and aggressive during the preceding year. Secretary Trautmann admitted this in his report...
