This Guide is intended to provide guidance to field biologists wishing to analyze data collected on terrestrial bird populations, as part of an avian population monitoring program. A second objective is to provide information that will help biologists design such programs. The audience is similar to that for the Handbook of Field Methods (Ralph et al. 1993), the Monitoring Bird Populations by Point Counts (Ralph et al. 1995), and in many ways this Statistical Guide to Data Analysis of Avian Monitoring Programs can be a useful complement to the field methods handbook. At the same time, we feel this Statistical Guide can be of use to field biologists studying other organisms besides terrestrial birds. In our view, all field biologists will benefit from taking the equivalent of 2 or 3 semester courses in statistics and we assume that readers of this guide have completed at least this basic level in statistics.
