Pugh, of Ohio, on the Condition of Affairs in Kansas Territory: Delivered in the United States Senate, May 26, 1856 The bill to authorize the people of the Territory of Kansas to form a constitution and State government, preparatory to their admission into the Union when they have the requisite population, being under consideration, Mr. Pugh said: The condition of affairs in Kansas Territory for the past year has been such as to fill the heart of a patriotic statesman with unaffected sorrow and alarm. Together, like twin sisters, that Territory and the Territory of Nebraska came into existence on the 30th of May, 1854, by virtue of one act of Congress, and with organizations in all respects the same. In Nebraska, so far as we can learn, quiet and order have prevailed, and the foundations of a prosperous State have been securely established. But Kansas, alaist from the hoar of its birth, has been the arena of conflict, violence, and bloodshed. These disorders became more intense, as well as more frequent, from month to month, until the assembling of Congress in December last; and at an early period of the session before the House of Representatives had notified us of its organization had attained a serious degree of importance. The season in which we are accustomed to celebrate the advent of the Prince of Peace on earth when of old the angels in manifest glory proclaimed goodwill to all mankind that season, so sacred and festal, brought us tidings of the most terrible character; tidings that discontent had ripened into rebellion, and strife proceeded to the bitterness of civil war....
