Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The History and Antiquities of the Collegiate Church of All Saints Maidstone is in the bailiwick of Eyehorne, Lathe of Aylesford, west division of the county, and division of the justices of the corporation of Maidstone; the church is in the diocese of Canterbury and deanery of Sutton, and is thus entered in the black book - de Maidstone cum capellis de Loose et Detliug. Placed in the centre of a fertile valley, on the banks of a navigable stream, and in easy communication with every part of the county, this town must early have risen into that consideration which, without recession, it has maintained by a course of quiet nnventing industry. Though a place of much resort, enriched by the passage of the Canterbury pilgrims, and a favoured residence of the archbishops, it can scarcely be said to have any history of its own, but, responsive only to influence from without, has served here and there to give a site to an historical event, and fill its unambitious part in social organization. Maidstone, however, possesses several objects that arrest the attention of an antiquary; the due proportion of religious foundations that one expects in an ancient town flourished here; the liberality of the archbishops augmented and upheld its ecclesiastical establishments, and private wealth and station have left their record in such buildings as one would expect to proceed from the aristocracy of a country town, too great to be adorned by the hand of baronial and feudal power, and not great enough to leave any remarkable memorials of itself to posterity. Leland gives the following description of it, as it was in the reign...
